Its All About CHILDREN's DAY!!

In India, Children's Day is celebrated every year on November 14, on the occasion of Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's birthday. Pandit Nehru – also fondly remembered as 'Chacha Nehru' by children of India – was the first ever Prime Minister of independent India. Children's Day is typically a celebration of the awareness of child rights, childcare and education for all children. It is said that Pandit Nehru was a strong advocate of children's education; he considered them as the backbone of Indian society.

Why Jawaharlal Nehru's Birthday?

It is said that Pandit Nehru was a strong advocate of children's education, and was also instrumental in the establishment of pioneer institutions like the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), the Indian Institutes of Technology (IIT), the Indian Institutes of Management (IIM) and the National Institutes of Technology (NIT). He always believed in the country's young minds, and emphasised on their welfare and growth. For him, children were the real assets and strength of the society.

"The children of today will make the India of tomorrow. The way we bring them up will determine the future of the country," he had said.

How Children's Day is Celebrated

On this day, cultural programmes for children are held across the country, in various schools, colleges and other educational institutions. Certain events and competitions are held, which also see the participation of teachers. Children also dress up as Jawaharlal Nehru with a red rose pinned to the collar of their 'Nehru' jacket.

Student Extra- ordinaire

Passion is what motivates us to do the things we love. It is that strong desire that allows you to create something extraordinary—the fuel that keeps the fire burning. The lockdown during COVID helped Hiba Nisam of grade 6A discover her passion towards designing in computers.

Self taught Hiba Nisam's interest in computers always has her curiosity piqued and keeps experimenting and constantly learning new things. She has created 2 websites and shared it with others by creating a QR code which would open the website upon scanning it. While the school taught how to do basic coding, she learnt how to add pictures and animate them. She also has learnt designing in AUTO-CAD and creates 3D models, TDP (Total Data Package) Drawings. "I love to experiment and I learn better by working on it" she says. Apart from computers and designing, she likes doing realistic drawings, crafting and embroidery. LIS is proud to have a child prodigy amongst us.

Kindness Corner

Abdul Rahman, of grade 1A is a shy child who sits quietly and observes everything around him with great interest. One fine day the class teacher of his class announced that one of their classmate who was on sick leave for the past few weeks would be rejoining them and requested all the students in the class to be considerate towards their friend and help her feel safe and welcomed.

First day, the teacher made her sit in a small chair that was comfortable for her. The next day as the teacher was re arranging the chairs in the class to accommodate the kids, she noticed that Abdul Rahman was nowhere to be found. Searching for him further she discovered him searching for something in the school corridor. She kept quiet to observe what he was up to. Abdul was bringing the same small chair to accommodate and comfort their returning class mate.

This act of kindness touched the teacher like no other she had observed in a while.

Glimpse of Activities

PTM Meetings

After the completion of the mid term exams and evaluations, Parent Teachers Meeting was conducted where parents could ask their concerns directly with the teacher and get it clarified. Parent-teacher meetings play a significant role in enhancing a child's education. It is an effective way for both; parents as well as teachers to discuss how the child has been doing in school. The union of the teacher's feedback and parent's concern can immensely help a child's educational journey.
